

GANG CHAINED IN STOKESHOLD AS BOAT SANK

Negro Fireman Tells How "Black" Workers Passed Buckets of Coal WORKED LIKE SLAVES

Witness on Stand Says Men Tried to Keep Up Steam

New York, Nov. 22.—How the black men who were chained together in the Stokes, with water sloshing about their heads, while they passed buckets of coal into the boiler, was described today by a witness on the stand in the federal investigation into the disaster before Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill.

"I became exhausted and sick," he testified, "and I had to go on deck and lie down." Basil declared, "This was Monday morning and I hadn't had any food since 5 o'clock Saturday night."

"The men were working like slaves. When the water was rising the place eight firemen and four coal passers were ordered to form a bucket brigade to help bail out the ship. We worked hard and long but it didn't do any good. The water kept coming in, getting worse all the time."

Order Men Below

While he was lying sick on deck, Basil testified, the first officer came and shouted: "All firemen below!"

One fireman had come up on the deck because of the water-logged conditions below and because they were exhausted. "Sick as I was I had to go down again," said the witness. The firemen toiled hard trying to keep up steam by passing coal into the remaining boiler—the others had to pass coal up to the boiler from a bucket brigade to help bail out the ship. We worked hard and long but it didn't do any good. The water kept coming in, getting worse all the time."

More Pronounced

When he resumed duty at noon Sunday the list was more pronounced, Basil said, and considerably more water was running in through the ash dump. Some of the crew "went to work on the leak." The storm was at its height at this stage. The aft stokehold was flooded. The firemen had to stand in water.

"Things were bad Sunday night," he testified.

What's President Coolidge to Do When He Leaves White House? Capital Asks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Future continues to grow apace in official Washington—to say nothing of the arena of high finance—over personal plans of President Coolidge after March 4.

Into what line of activity the retiring chief executive will go has become an all-absorbing topic of conversation and speculation in the capital.

Today, just thirteen and a half weeks from the finish line of his official career, Mr. Coolidge was maintaining the same sphinx-like silence on this score with which he treated the politicians, and the nation in general with his "I do not choose to run" statement.

Offers before him have come to the retiring president. His name and his prestige alone are worth many thousands of dollars yearly to an almost infinite number of concerns. He can, by the slightest indication of assent, become chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corp., the president of American Express, the head of several great life insurance companies or a lawyer unexcelled in magnitude of practice.

From the only hint Mr. Coolidge himself has given, however, it would appear he is planning to go back to Northampton, Mass., for a while at least. He is on record as having praised the type of people that make up the population of the town from which he made his entrance into politics, and he is quoted as having said, in effect: "It is my hope that I may return and live among these folks."

Current rumors of gossip are divergent, and quite widely so. For example:

Mrs. Coolidge went house-hunting the other day. She inspected, from top to bottom, a $45,000 sample residence in one of the smart new subdivisions of town, which included approximately $20,000 worth of display furniture. . . . indication the couple about to retire from the White House are planning to remain in Washington.

The president, in the course of the past 35 months, has received a number of visits from the controlling heads of the United States Steel Corp. J. Pierpont Morgan accepted the chairmanship of the board, it is said, only with the understanding that he was to remain in such capacity until Mr. Coolidge signified definitely whether or not he would take the post upon his retirement.

The presidency of Auburn is an always-open job for the outgoing executive. Mr. Coolidge is the most distinguished alumnus of that college and such a position would be the most fitting.

KING AGAIN NAMED ASSOCIATION HEAD

Steam Shovel Co. Official Re-elected Ohio Manufacturers' President

Charles B. King, vice president of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., was re-elected president of the Ohio Manufacturers' association by a unanimous vote at the annual meeting of the organization at Hotel Hollenden, Cleveland, yesterday.

Mr. King was chosen to occupy the chief post in the association over his own objections. He asked that another man be selected to fill the office he has held the last three years, but the delegates refused to consider the request.

Three resolutions were adopted by the association at yesterday's meeting. All were opposed to measures expected to be presented in the coming session of the state legislature.

Charging that the anti-injunction and "yellow dog" bills favor only a small minority and would endanger the property, safety and personal liberty of a large majority, the delegates adopted resolutions opposing each of these measures. The third bill opposed by a resolution of the meeting was the state old age pension bill.

Vice presidents of the association elected yesterday are: C. R. Clapp, Toledo; P. O. Geler, Cincinnati; J. D. Cox, Jr., Cleveland; T. J. Barnes, Mansfield, and A. P. Sparks, Springfield.

J. B. Webster, Columbus, will serve as executive secretary during the coming year while T. S. Huntington, Columbus, will act as treasurer. Earl Ritter, Columbus, was appointed as manager of the service department.

Workers Strive to Reach 400 Goal as Campaign Nears Close

With 63 new memberships reported obtained Tuesday and Wednesday, Y. M. C. A. campaign workers today were driving forward in their efforts to obtain 400 members before the three-day campaign closes tonight.

First reports were made by team captains last night at a dinner in the Y. M. C. A. building which was attended by all workers and "Y" officials.

Bob White's team, in the Locke division, was leading last night when first reports were made. The drive takes the form of a Zepplin race from Paris to New York. Each membership is worth 100 miles in the race and White's ship had "sailed" 3,700 miles. The journey is 4,000 miles.

K. A. Shumaker, of Columbus, was Y. M. C. A. secretary, was here last night and addressed campaign workers.

Price Chief Tug as Folk Seek Wandering Melagrakis Gallopavo

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The great quest, confronting the common people this time of the year is the price of the wandering Melagrakis Gallopavo. HOLIDAY SETTING CREATED BY SNOWFALL

Draws Christmas Shoppers to Stores

YESTERDAY'S decidedly white and "Christmasy" snowfall served as a reminder to Marion residents that the holiday shopping season is at hand, according to reports from local stores to the effect that gift buying showed a marked increase.

The wintry scene, apparently, had its effect as a reminder that there are just 26 shopping days left before Christmas.

Yesterday's snowfall, in which the selection of Christmas stock this year and what can't be bought in the city, was helped by the fact that yesterday's snow had disappeared, an occasional flurry today maintained the holiday atmosphere and continued to draw increasing numbers of buyers to the stores.

Weathermen predicted cold today with a low temperature at noon, slightly colder in the prediction for tonight with fair weather for both tonight and Friday.

Yesterday Marion thermometer registered a high of 39 degrees and low of 22. Wind light, precipitation both snow and rain, amounting to about fifteen hundredths of an inch.

A year ago temperatures were decidedly higher, having risen several degrees from the preceding day. A high of 63 degrees and low of 47 were recorded here.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP RAISED TO 308

Banquet at Hotel Harding Follows One-Day Campaign in County

STATE OFFICER SPEAKS

Marion and Crawford Counties Joined in Drive for Increased Enrollment

Membership in the Marion County Farm Bureau stood at 308 today following a one-day drive for new members yesterday. The campaign was brought to a close last night with a banquet in the ballroom of Hotel Harding attended by 41 drive workers. Twelve teams composed of members of Marion and Crawford County Farm Bureaus took part in the drive, which netted 26 new members and nearly the same number of new prospects. Friday, members of the local organization will co-operate with the Crawford County Farm Bureau in its membership campaign.

State Officer Speaks

In a short address, Murray D. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, outlined some of the plans that are being formed by the organization in the state. Located in a strategic point as he is to serve Indiana and Michigan as well as Ohio members of the federation, Lincoln stated that the Farm Bureau is planning on the construction of a feed mill to manufacture and distribute at cost practically all the special feeds used by the farmer. Blue prints have been drawn up for the project, which is expected to take definite form in a short time.

Operations Extended

Plans, he continued, have been made for the co-operative buying of oil for use by the farmer and to add life insurance to the benefits for farm bureau members. Within a short time, the speaker stated, announcement will be made that the state body has taken over a grain elevator for co-operative marketing of grain. He predicted that in the future a number of elevators will be taken over in the state, making it possible for farmers belonging to the farm bureau to form a large and powerful market pool.

More Members

He stated that one of the greatest needs of organized farmers in the country is a million more members in the Farm Bureau and a like number in the granges. More co-operation between the organized farm groups is necessary, he pointed out, if a satisfactory form of relief is to be obtained for the farmers. The organization must act together a definite long-range program to accomplish anything in co-operation.

Round Loper, branch manager of the Ohio Farm Bureau Corporation, had charge of the meeting. Made during the banquet was furnished by William Dowler at the piano with Paul Fowler playing the violin.

A FAMILY dinner at the Hochs' home west of the city today celebrated the ninety-fifth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Catherine Hoch. The event is being celebrated in the home which Mrs. Hoch has occupied for more than half a century.

Mrs. Hoch, who is very active for one of her advanced years and very alert mentally, was born in Greenacres, Pa., Nov. 22, 1833, the daughter of Henry Garvin and Catherine Garvin Hoch. She recalls vividly interesting events of her childhood days, among them the visit of Jenny Lind to Greenacres. While Mrs. Hoch did not hear the concert given by the singer she remembered seeing her at the tavern during the day.

Married at Tiffin

Mrs. Hoch's marriage to Enosh Hoch was solemnized Nov. 8, 1853, at Tiffin. They went to Greenacres, where they resided for a year and a half and returned to Ohio, making their home in Tiffin for about three years. They then moved to Cleveland, where Mr. Hoch engaged in the manufacture of carriages and wagons. After residing in Cleveland for about three years Mr. and Mrs. Hoch moved to Marion, where Mr. Hoch engaged in a business on North Main st.

PETITION FOR SMITH OUSTER GOES ON FILE

More Than 1,000 Signers Ask for Removal of County Recorder

HEARING LATER

75 Applications for Place Reported in Hands of Commissioners

Vacating of the office of county recorder moved one step nearer completion yesterday afternoon when Prosecuting Attorney Frank Wiedenman filed an outer petition bearing more than 1,000 names in the common pleas court. Circulation of the petition was stopped last week when the 1,000 signatures required by law had been obtained.

The next step in the process, to remove Charles H. Smith from office will be to serve him with a copy of the petition. Service, according to Prosecuting Attorney Wiedenman, may be made at his last known place of residence. Smith's present location is unknown to officials here. He has been absent from the city for nearly seven months.

Time for Hearing

Hearing can not be held in court before 10 days after the copy of the petition has been served at Smith's usual place of residence here. It is not likely that the hearing will come to the attention of Judge George B. Bechtel before early in December, as the court docket is filled for the next two weeks or more.

Appointment of the new official, should the office be declared vacant by Judge Bechtel, will be made by the board of county commissioners, which then will be composed of O. W. Kinnaman, chairman, W. M. King and O. C. McDuffy. Since approximately 75 persons have made application to the commissioners for appointment, speculation is rife as to the possible action of that body.

Republicans' Choice Probable

All members of the board of commissioners are Republicans, so that it is regarded as practically certain that the new recorder will be appointed from the ranks of that party.

Whether E. M. Bell, the present deputy recorder who has been in charge of the office since Smith's disappearance, will be retained in the event a Republican is appointed is a matter of conjecture. Bell's resignation is reported to be among the applications for the position.

In making a complete examination of Smith's records last spring, state auditors estimated a finding for recovery amounting to $2,010.86. So far the county has not collected on the official's bond, which is sufficient to cover the entire shortage.

Not Will the county be able to collect the full amount. At present it stands at $1,110, the amount of Smith's salary from the time he disappeared until the end of November. Although Smith has not been in the office for seven months, his salary of $177 a month still goes on and will be applied on his short-term when the auditing company makes its settlement, according to rulings of Ohio courts.

WRONG MAN?

Chicago Official Fled Description in Checking Description

Chicago, Nov. 22.—In checking up the description of the "axe slayer" of Omaha who murdered two women and a man, with that of Harry Ganahua, alias Solomon Haldor, 24, who arrested in Los Angeles, Chicago police learned today there were two apparent discrepancies.

"The Omaha 'axe man' it was stated is a light-skinned man, Ganahua is exceedingly dark-skinned. The man sought for the Omaha slayings was described as clean-shaven, whereas the Chicago man has a mustache of some months' growth.

Ganahua flatly denied having been in Omaha at the time of the murders or of having any knowledge of them. He has arrested recently following a hand-to-hand struggle with "Alfred Samsonson," a Frenchman whose Ganahua was said to have invaded for robbery purposes.

How come, and likewise, what for?

To the casual observer, the crackling of major of Beverly Hills would seem a notable addition to the ranks of the jolly Bohemians.

But, it is reported, the board of governors of the club upon receipt of the Rogers application, knotted its collective brow and hesitated to that night not so long ago when the former Oklahoma cowboy was a guest at the club's High Jinks.

There was much talent present on this evening it seems and it was of such quality that Rogers was asked to stay in which to do his stuff.

But, or so it is alleged, the cowboy humorist was in such fine fettle that the five minutes was as nothing. He continued to crack wise while other waiting artists broke. There was a crackling of teeth, but Will, when he "chewed" to run it held down it very well indeed.

Subsequently, in some quarters the atmosphere became quite chilled when it is alleged Will told of the High Jinks in his syndicated article. For Will is reported as saying they required a couple of weeks for the participants in the High Jinks to get back to normal after one of those annual sessions at 14th and Ave.

So the reports have it that Rogers' sponsor has withdrawn his application and there seems to be such ado although on the surface even the clippers are well in hand.

Philippines Happy as Prosperous Year Brings Riches, Report Asserts

McIntyre Describes Conditions on Islands to War Department; Cites Progress Since Arrival of Henry L. Stimson; Tells of Cooperation with Government

Washington, Nov. 22.—It would be difficult to find a more contented body of people or one with fewer causes for grievances.

Thus Maj. Gen. Frank McIntyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, described conditions in the Philippines, utilizing the quotation from a statement by Maj. Gen. A. C. McArthur.

McIntyre today submitted his annual report as chief of the insular bureau to Secretary of War Davis.

The report covers the Philippines and Porto Rico and the Dominican customs receivership, which comes under the war department.

The Philippine government and people have enjoyed a prosperous year, McIntyre reported. The finances are in excellent condition, public order is good and health and sanitation conditions have steadily improved. Statistics of production and trade bear evidence of continued progress, McIntyre said.

Tells of Progress
McIntyre traced the situation in the islands since the death of Gen. Leonard Wood and the arrival of his successor, Henry L. Stimson, and the progress made in furthering cooperation between the islands and the American officials.

He pointed to the following special instances of the cooperation between the legislative and executive branches of the Philippine government.

Noninterference of a cabinet member's chosen after conference with the leaders of the majority in the legislature and which is thus expected to be in harmony with that majority.

An amendment to the rules of procedure of both houses of the legislature giving to members of the cabinet the privilege of the floor of both houses with the right to speak on subjects relating to their departments and the duty under proper safeguards, of submitting to investigation thereon.

The creation by executive order of a council of state to advise the Governor General on such matters of public moment as he may from time to time lay before it, the council consisting of the president of the Senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the majority floor leader of the senate and the heads of the six executive departments.

Philippines Pleased
"That these steps have been most favorably received by the Philippine leaders is evidenced by their public statements," McIntyre said.

Concerning the economic situation in the islands, McIntyre said, the Philippine currency is now sound, and the bonded indebtedness properly provided for by sinking funds.

In 1927, the report showed revenues exceeded expenditures of government by more than $1,500,000 and the government's balance sheet showed a surplus of approximately $1,500,000.

The industries of the islands are progressing slowly and steadily, although handicapped by lack of capital, McIntyre said.

Agriculture Improves
The outstanding development in agriculture he said, was the increased sugar production per acre accomplished by introduction of improved and disease immune cane varieties, irrigation and fertilization. Sugar exportations amounted to $54,570,024 and constituted nearly 75 per cent of the products valued by Porto Rico.

Mineral resources are being developed by the United States, followed by fuel, $6,527,551. Coffee came next.

Very industry is going along satisfactorily, McIntyre said.

Appended to the Porto Rico report is the correspondence passing between President Coolidge and Governor Hiram M. Dowry, with respect to dissatisfaction among the islands because of alleged injustices done them by the United States.

KIWANIANS CAST ELECTION BALLOTS

Vote on Officers Taken; Lecture-Recital Quartet Entertains

Balloting on club officers for the coming year took place at the meeting of the Marion Kiwanis club at the Hotel Harding at noon today.

Ballots were turned over to the elections committee for distribution. Announcement of the newly elected officers will be made at the next meeting of the club Dec. 6.

A musical program in honor of Louis Schubert, famous American composer who died 100 years ago, occupied the attention of the Kiwanians at their meeting today.

The program was presented by a quartet from the Marion Lecture Recital Club.

Mrs. F. G. Holzner and Miss Marion McNeil, Dora Jacobson and Mary Hutchinson sang selections from Schubert's works. Miss Wanda McMahon accompanied.

Schubert's Unfinished Symphony was played on a phonograph through the courtesy of a member of the club. The symphony took 20 minutes to play.

Decision was made by the club to continue its practice of holding a party for the children at the Marion Club. Children's home on Dec. 20.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Two men were under arrest today charged with being keepers of "crog shops" entering to school children. The arrest followed a series of raids undertaken in the drive to rid school districts of "crogshops," gun mills and speakeasies.

BENDER WILL FIGHT PLAN FOR COURTS

State Senator Characterizes Organizations as "Racketeers" in Challenges

Columbus, Nov. 22.—State Senator George H. Bender, Cuyahoga county, once an outspoken advocate and leader for the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, was on record today as thumping down a ringing challenge to the league and the Lord's Day Alliance in which he characterized both organizations as "racketeers" and reiterated his determination to fight against more courts and more judges in Ohio.

Asserting that Ohio "never was so powerful and so well conducted as at present," Bender declared that he is opposed to new legislation for the establishment of inferior courts. He further stated that should such legislation be proposed seriously he will insist upon two provisions, one that right of trial by jury in every misdemeanor case be safeguarded and the other that the jurisdiction of the magistrate or judge be limited to the district for which he or she is elected.

Bender declared the new bill seeking to create a system of new courts is backed by the Anti-Saloon League lobby and not any committee of the bar association and said "the Constitutional Government League which fought the Marshall bill is still a militant organization with thousands of members who will once more take up the fight and carry it on to the finish."

Alpena, Mich., Nov. 22.—The passenger steamer, Thousand Islander, was on the bottom of Lake Huron today. The ship was in tow of the steamer Collingwood of the Canadian steamship lines and sank off Thousand Bay (early yesterday) according to reports reaching here.

The vessel sprung a leak and went down slowly. The officers and crew, 11 men, were taken off by the Collingwood.

The Thousand Islander was sold two weeks ago to the Georgian Bay Transportation Co. for $170,000 and was enroute from Chatham, Ont., to Midland, Georgian Bay, to be delivered.

S. senator from Ohio, were to speak here today at the annual master farmer banquet, sponsored by the Ohio Farmer-Cleveland farm journal, at which gold medals will be awarded to 10 outstanding farmers of Ohio.

The awards are made on a basis of efficiency and community service and are recommended by a judging committee consisting of Dean Alfred Vining, Ohio State university, L. I. Kinnell, editor of the Ohio Farmer, and I. R. Reed, Ohio agricultural agent for the New York Central Lines.

Thirty-five Ohio farmers have received the honor in recent years.

WORKING AGAIN

Ford's School Runs Smoothly After Pupils Return, Teachers Quit

South Sudbury, Mass., Nov. 22.—Henry Ford's model trade school was running smoothly again today.

Joe Zekatski, 37, state ward of Marlboro, alleged school bully, still was at his bench, four of six boys who staged a "mutiny" had returned and three instructors were out of a job, their resignations having been accepted.

Earl Boyer, the Ford Wayside Inn representative said "I am afraid if we let Joe go now he would simply go to the dogs and his desire to work and to forge ahead would be stifled. Rather than take any chances with the boy's future at stake, we cleaned house instead."

The instructors who resigned were Louis Mackell, Lawrence O'Connor and Mrs. Eleanor Timmons.

RIVER BOAT SINKS

Heavy Gust of Wind Topple Vessel Near Gallipolis

Gallipolis, Nov. 22.—River authorities here today debated the possibility of raising the steamer Charles H. Wilson which capsized and sank in the Ohio river near here last night.

The steamer veered over when caught in a heavy gust of wind that accompanied a sudden squall.

Capt. Loyal Wright, Chief Engineer, John Huber and the cabin and deck crew of 10 including two women cooks reached safety on the river banks in a yawl.

Owned by the Ohio River Dredging Co. of Huntington, W. Va., the Wilson was used to tow sand and gravel from Gallipolis to Huntington, Ashland, Ky., and Charleston, W. Va.

The boat was valued at $10,000.

Like the Nut The Kernel's Inside

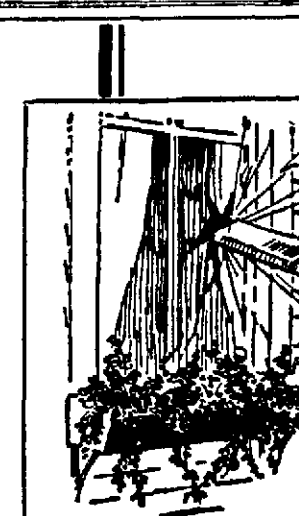

And, like the nut, all coal looks very much alike. It is only after we discover the inside that we can judge of quality.

In coal the real kernel of satisfaction and quality is the heat unit. It is not a matter of appearance or color, but a question of: Does it produce a maximum of heat with a minimum of smoke, ash and clinkers?

Call 4243 TODAY and let Our Good Coal answer that question for you.

Navy Bill Faces Stiff Opposition hard sledding in the senate despite the personal endorsement of President Coolidge.

The insurgent bloc and a militant group of Democrats plan an assault on the bill which may block its enactment at the short session of congress. The bill also faces shipwreck in the legislative jam that marks every session.

The measure would authorize the construction of 15 new fast cruisers and one airplane carrier. It carries a total authorization of $274,000,000 but the actual cost of the new warships may reach $400,000,000.

Senator William H. King, Democrat of Utah, fought a similar bill two years ago, forcing considerable modification. King announced today that he expected to oppose the new measure.

"Not Well-Balanced"

"I shall seek modification of the bill," King said.

King will receive help from the insurgent bloc in fighting the cruiser bill. Senator Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, announced last spring he would fight its enactment, while other insurgent leaders have declared the construction of new cruisers was unnecessary and a blow to world peace.

Senator Hale, Republican of Maine, chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, meanwhile announced he would seek early enactment of the measure at the short session. He predicted its passage, since President Coolidge and President-elect Herbert Hoover both have declared in favor of a navy "second to none in the world."

The bill also will have the support of Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and Senator Swanson, Democrat of Virginia.

bill to reduce the amount of new construction," said King. "I feel the psychology of the bill is bad. Here we are making a gesture of world peace to the other nations of the world, through the Kellogg anti-war pact and other treaties. Our first step should be to reduce armaments. If we adopt a new disarmament treaty in the next few years, it will result in the same situation as occurred in 1921, when we sunk new battleships, dismantled others and lost millions of dollars of the taxpayer's money."

"I also feel this great appropriation for new cruisers is not a well-balanced policy. It is too much for cruisers at a time when the military focus of the World war teaches us we should spend less on warships and more on submarines and airplanes."

PHARMACY LIBRARY GIVEN OHIO STATE

Twelve Hundred Volumes in Collection Turned Over by Grand Rapids, Ohio, Man

Columbus, Nov. 22—Gift of one of the best private pharmacy libraries in the United States to the Ohio State University was announced here today. The collection consisting of 1200 bound volumes and several hundred pamphlets and reprints, will be for the special use of students in the college of pharmacy here.

The library was owned by the late Axel Thurston, of Grand Rapids, O., for many years chief analyst of the state food and dairy department. It was presented to the university by his son, Newman R. Thurston, also of Grand Rapids, who donated a number of offers to sell the collection.

Both father and son are former students here. The older Thurston was enrolled here more than 45 years ago, later graduating from the University of Michigan. The son was a senior in the college of pharmacy here at the time of his father's death in 1921. The latter also was a lecturer in the college of pharmacy from 1917 to 1919.

The collection was characterized by Dean, Chas. A. Dye, of the college of pharmacy, as "exceptional" in that it contains complete sets of the most important journals of pharmacy and chemistry. Such complete sets, Dr. Dye said, are rare.

The collection has been accessioned and catalogued by the university library and will shortly be placed in the departmental library in the new chemistry building for chemistry and pharmacy students. It is the first large gift of its kind to the college of pharmacy.

FRENCH SAY NAME FOR AMERICANS IS NEEDED

Paris—Americans need a new name, according to Camille Mollon, French writer who says in "Le Figaro." Is it not a singular anomaly that the French language, which is so rich and supple and shaded, has no word to designate the inhabitants of the United States? Thus a people of more than 110 millions, who play a role of the first order in the world and who assured the victory of the allies in the last war are called by an adjective which applies to such American continents. They have no name of their own.

Mollon believes that a new term which would abolish the roundabout expression meaning the "people of the United States" should be quickly found.

RAS TAFARI BACKS YOUTH AT STATE

Melaku E. Bayen, from Abyssinia, Is Only Protege
of Royalty at University

Columbus, Nov. 22—Melaku E. Bayen, 28, is the only protege of royalty among the more than 10,000 students this fall at Ohio State university. He is from the household of Ras Tafari, emperor of Abyssinia.

If Bayen, who is a graduate of Muskingum college, achieves his ambition, he will go back to his native land several years hence as the first and only native physician among his 10,000,000 countrymen. He is now enrolled in the graduate school, Ohio State university, and is seeking admission to the university's college of medicine. His admission was deferred last fall because the size of freshman medical class is limited to 100 picked students, and the preference is given to Ohioans, of whom there were far more than enough to fill the class.

Bayen came to the United States in 1922 and entered Muskingum academy at New Concord, O. Graduating there, he matriculated at Muskingum college from which he received the degree of bachelor of science last June. He was one of three Abyssinian youths sponsored by Ras Tafari who entered Muskingum.

Bayen, in spite of having to learn English, had a good scholastic record both in his academy days and in Muskingum College. He is described by President J. Knox Montgomery of Muskingum, as "a young man of unusually fine character and ambition." H. A. Kelsey, vice president of Muskingum, said of him that he is "a most industrious, trustworthy student."

The father of Bayen is an officer in the Abyssinian army, a member of Ras Tafari's household. The son's ambition is to introduce modern medical methods into Abyssinia.

Appropos of the Vestris horror, mighty few

A Mr. Pole of this state has been named

A Chicago paper says that Thanksgiving would depend on whether it were a rest or a merely perfunctory inspection

It is pleasing to learn that former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker is sufficiently recovered from his recent serious illness to go to his office for limited periods. Though small in stature Newton D. Baker is a big city of Cleveland, to his state and to the nation

Judging by its patronage since its opening, last Friday, the advance tops on that Pele Island hoza store has been all wrong. It far more liable to prove a frost than a bonanza

As a result of the disclosures up there, it may be said that there isn't any politics in the handling of the Chicago sanitary district payroll. Republicans and Democrats alike have been crowding into the trough

Why should Poland take the trouble to utter an official denial of the Moscow report that Poland, France, Roumania and Jugo-slavia are making preparations for an anti-soviet war. Coming as it did from Moscow, it was bound to be recognized as a lie

The French charge that the United States and Germany are allied on the debt question.
"The debt question?" There's no question about it. The position of this country is plain. It is, in substance, this: France owed us a debt. We have thrown off a big end of it. Sign an agreement to make good the balance in easy payments

Crime Will Out.

United States government agents, representatives of London's famous Scotland Yard and operatives of other crime detecting organizations of international scope are in investigating a gem smuggling conspiracy which it is believed will involve millions of dollars

Four persons have already been arrested and placed under bond in connection with the alleged conspiracy. They are a New York jeweler and his daughter, a member of the New York traffic squad whose post for a number of years has been at the Chinand pier in New York City and the chief steward of the Chinand liner, Berengaria

In some way suspicion was directed to ward the Berengaria steward, and upon the arrival of that vessel at her pier in New York City government operatives not only searched his room—in which they found a precious of diamonds the value of which according to various estimates, ranges from several to fifty thousand dollars—but the entire vessel from stem to stern, including the captain's quarters

The steward, when grilled, is said to have confessed and implicated the other three stating that the traffic officer, to whom he planned to hand the package, was the go between

The government agents, in some way learned that twelve packages of diamonds had been brought into this country during the year without the payment of duty, and this is the explanation of the searching of the big liners for months past upon their arrival in New York, searches which were thought to have been made to prevent the smuggling in of liquor

And thus we have another exemplification of the well-established fact that crime doesn't pay. It may escape detection for a time, but sooner or later it will be run down, possibly as a result of boldness acquired through a period of immunity, possibly, as is probable in this case through the betrayal of the crime through some disgruntled accomplice of the chief criminals. No matter how in time crime is bound to be revealed and the criminals apprehended.

Far into the Billions.

Unless the average motorist has been doing a little figuring he can hardly have adequate conception of the mighty total he and his fellow motorists are paying annually by way of the gas tax

Figures just made public by the bureau of public roads at the federal department of agriculture show that gasoline taxes in forty-six states and the District of Columbia produced a total revenue of $110,623,338 for the first six months of the present year, an increase of $25,000,000 over the corresponding months of last year. Of this total the sum of $95,819,113 was applied to the construction and maintenance of state roads $29,567,116 to District of Columbia roads and $5,670,669 to interest and premium payments on state and county bonds

But the most amazing phase of the report was that showing that a total of 4,662, 233,575 gallons of gasoline had been sold during the first six months of this year, a gain of nearly 700,000,000 gallons over the sales of the first six months of 1927. It was stated that the greatest gains in sales and revenue products were in the states of California, Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kansas and Montana

Let us do a little figuring. If the sales of the second half of the year equal those of the first the year's sales will be 9,324, 467,150 or 9,301,537,070 gallons. Taking seventeen cents as the average price paid during the year will mean an expenditure for gasoline for motor vehicles alone of $1,581,779,801.90

Can it longer be questioned that there is a needed measure of a general property when the motor vehicle owners of the land expend $1,581,779,801.90 for gasoline alone? There is said to be one automobile for every five in habitants of the United States. Thus one fifth of our people are making an annual expenditure of over a billion and a half dollars over $60 per capita, for gasoline for vehicular purposes alone

What then must be the staggering outlay for the purchase, upkeep and operation of our motor vehicles?

Anyhow this may be said for the second half of the year, there was enough of it to make its filling visible

A London cable says that knives are being sharpened in parliament to get Chamberlain, as a result of his part in the Anglo French pact. In a word, the British are as tired of secret diplomacy as we over here are but they resent our telling them of how we feel about it

Stopped by a smartly gowned, bobbed hair blonde who asked him to start her car, a motorist on near Crawfordville Indiana, found himself looking into the muzzle of the revolver of her male companion as the girl lifted $17 from his pocket. It's getting mighty dangerous for motorists to essay the Good Samaritan act

A Wonderful Showing.

The value of manufactured goods exported by the United States during the last recorded year was $2,861,000,000

This enormous total is not a conjecture or estimate. It is arrived at from actual figures compiled by the trade bureau of the department of commerce and given out in Washington by Director Julius Klein of the bureau

Dr. Klein reports that business enterprises of this country enjoyed an outgrowth volume of sales seventy per cent greater than that in the fiscal year 1921-22 and he goes on to say that the activity being instigated by American manufacturing institutions is in great part responsible for the showing of national prosperity manifested by the trade bureau's report

American manufactured goods of a value in excess of $2,000,000,000 exported in a year! Who would have believed, ten years ago that within a decade such a showing would be possible?

And what's the explanation?

Dr. Klein says the mighty increase is the result of modern trade promotion But in another way it is added evidence of the fact which is generally recognized in European lands—that the United States has a real department of commerce a department developed into the splendid organization it is through the efforts of Herbert Hoover

The good people of Chicago having been afflicted to wrath by reports of drinking in the public schools the police commissioner up there has ordered the police to close any places found selling liquor or operating slot machines in the vicinity of schools. We assume saloons not adjacent to school buildings will be permitted to operate as usual

Yolma O'Neil the original variety drag girl of Good News has left London, where she is said to have been a great favorite with the Prince of Wales to marry an American actor Anthony Bushnell. The story would have listened better in an advertising way had her departure preceded that of the prince for South Africa

British statistics show that the cigarette has displaced the pipe in the favor of British smokers which means much to the health of Britain. Contrary to what the anti-cigarette agitators may hold the cigarette is the least harmful form in which tobacco is smoked. A pack of them doesn't carry the monopoly of an old time pipe

Attorney General Gilliom of Indiana has filed a brief in the supreme court of his state in support of his contention that Superior tendent T. S. Shumaker of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league is unlawfully at liberty through the ill-timed action of Governor Jackson the superintendent's political protegee in pardoning him. It is an open question which should take the greater humiliation—serving a prison sentence or receiving a pardon at the hands of the governor of Indiana.

"WELL, THERE'S SOME FARM RELIEF WHEN THE LAMB AND THE HOG, AS WELL AS THE COW, JUMP OVER THE MOON."

Cause in Epileptic Seizures.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

In my mail recently came a letter from a young mother in Pennsylvania. She tells me she has fourteen-month-old baby boy, but first child and yet who "does not know anything, about babies yet. I suppose nobody could ever know everything about babies. One of the great difficulties about bringing up babies is that mothers are told so many things that are not true. The friends who give the advice are sincere of course but many times they have perpetuated tradition to displace common sense

However, this young mother has asked specifically about epilepsy. She said she had a visitor a girl of about fourteen who had and had fallen into a fit. It was the first time the correspondent had ever witnessed an attack of this sort and of course she was much disturbed by it.

Fortunately epilepsy is not a common ailment but when it does appear it has certain definite symptoms. Usually the victim has warning, of what is to happen. He utters a loud scream or terrible groan

Almost immediately after this the patient falls to the ground, clenching his hands and kicking his feet. The eyes roll upward, the patient is purple and there is more or less frothing at the mouth.
Sometimes the tongue is extended between the teeth.
This may cause the froth about the lips. The limbs may become rigid and the attack then is thrust with blood. During the attack there is loss of consciousness. Within a few minutes consciousness returns but very quickly natural sleep follows. On awaking the victim is perfectly normal

In girls and women there may be a certain periodicity about the attacks. They may come every month or so. In many instances however there seems to be no regularity about the seizures.
It is important for the person who has epilepsy to have a very careful physical examination and repeated examinations. It is necessary to find out if there is any focal infection. Abscessed teeth or tonsils, a diseased gall bladder, abscess of the intestinal tract—any of these may be responsible for the poisoning which is followed by epileptic fits

It is a surprising fact that the strain may produce such damage of nerve energy as to produce a condition in which may be followed by epileptic fits. It is important to have an eye examination, not only to find out if there is a strain in the vision but also to discover whether or not the eye muscles are in perfect adjustment. If there is lack of team work in the use of the eye muscles any form of functional nervous disorder may follow

It is important to notice all the simple rules of hygiene. Simple things, out of our life, plenty of sleep, lots of sunshine and a well-balanced diet are essential to the building up of the body and the growth of the nervous system

Editorial Opinion.

IGNORANCE OR WHAT?

Either Senator Royal S. Copeiland, Democrat
of New York, knows nothing about the St.
Lawrence railway project or else Senator Copeland was willfully deceiving his hearers when he told a group of Middle Westerners gathered in New York Tuesday that he seemed would build up the commerce of Montreal at the expense of American ports and that it would benefit only Canadian farmers at the expense of American farmers

If Senator Copeiland is qualified to talk about the St. Lawrence railway then he should be well aware that the purpose of the project is not to bring ocean-ships to Montreal to which port ocean ships already come but to bring ocean ship past Montreal on up the river and through the Great Lakes to the fresh water harbors of Duluth and Superior, Milwaukee and Cleveland and Detroit and Port Arthur and Port Huron

Instead of gaining anything, Montreal would lose some of its present transshipping business. Just as New York would lose a little of its present transshipping business

And that is the reason why both Montreal and New York are bitterly opposed to the railway development

It is not however the building up of one port or the tearing down of another that interests the Northwest and the Middle West. What these regions are demanding is a water way to Europe, with freight rates to such markets that will automatically increase the farm value of every unit of product whether it is for export or for domestic consumption

So my now that the railway must not be built merely because it will take some of the transshipping business away from the ports of New York and Montréal is an outlandish as would be a man three quarters of a century ago a port, a almost construction of railroads on the ground that their operation would take business away from the existing ports

Senator Copeiland's talk Tuesday tells New York's determination that the St. Lawrence route must be fought by every conceivable means fair or foul. Is it any wonder then that millions of western farmers whose future prosperity is in-imately linked with the fate of the St. Lawrence project prefer Herbert Hoover to Wood of the plan, to Governor Alfred E. Smith who only recently was its avowed enemy?—Minneapolis

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MONTAGUE

New York, Nov. 22—New York somehow provides a perfect background for a sucker The immensity of the city gives rogues a chance to strut. Also known for their perfect family bedside manners in their home towns often come here, and before they know it have slipped a cog

Sometimes they have scarcely registered at their hotel before they begin wondering how in the world they can keep their names out of the tabloids. One crisp and sunny morning this fall three anxious gentlemen scurried to private detective agencies, covered with mortification and cold sweat

Each had lost wallets containing valuable papers after driving through the park with a lady. They had been in town less than twenty-four hours and in unguarded moments fell for one of the ancient tricks—a coyly-dropped handkerchief and a demure smile

Most of the victims are far removed from the Broadway classification of "saps. They are the tired cavaliers of commerce who have merely been touched by the city's spirit of gaiety and indulged a foolish lark. And find themselves suddenly jockeyed into a dangerous and expensive cul de sac

There are police records of more than 20,000 women who manage to live quite comfortably by lying in wait for the stranger and adroitly turning a pick-up acquaintance into a profitable adventure. They are the fine feathered sort with a veneer of refinement that is disarming

Their vanity causes conceal no knockout drops or other such crudities. They have well appointed apartments in select neighborhoods and often intimate often do not know of their own methods of capitalizing their charms. They are the female gleaners along the way that is white

In the intimacy of a cab they will lift a leather, for they know the visiting fireman will rarely squawk. The next most popular gesture is to inspire a lovey dovey note cleverly handled, this becomes a polite form of blackmail that may pay the rest for quite a spell

Experts in blackmail say in almost every instance a blackmailing bluff can be called Once the bluff is turned over to the police blackmailing ladies lose all interest. They take no chances on those who fight back.
They know there are enough boobies to go round who will not

The low numbered automobile license plate is big, league stuff—the grand gesture—in this town. It is associated with a political pull or an intimate friendship with the police commissioner and was the breaks for a car that had a right of way in traffic and special parking privileges. Doubtless a few city officials are lulled by the illusion. They frequently displayed by them the theatrical producers so called merchant princes and others who bear the onvenient tag of celebrity. It is a form of cheap favoritism displayed toward those who have no more right to them than the ordinary tax paying worm who meekly waits his turn Gr r r r

The low numbered auto license is just an other example of Manhattan's inordinant vanity—the unending desire to be what it is not. I wish I had one

Cherry hill one of the city's reputed loveliest spots was once a scene of idyllic peace. Somewhere, where some strolling lover hand in hand where fat burghers sat in elbow chairs for comfortable naps etc. Even its name came from the fragrance of its cherry orchards. Today a decadent civilization lives on the ruins of a departed aristocracy of something swell sounding like that

Four of New York's most recent debutantes are accomplished telephone players. It used to be the only person who played a symphony was the black face comedian. He came on with one grand his neck, his overcoat or an imaginary will took off six vests and then started to render "Asleep in the Deep". He never entirely finished it for in the midst of his deepest into the straight man came along to beatow a resounding kick in the crupper. And they snapped into a dance

New Allocation Brings Protests from Marion Radio Fans

REPORT SITUATION MADE WORSE HERE

Favorite Stations Weak or Fail To Register at All on Local Sets

MANY COMPLAINTS

Local Radio Dealers Say Federal Board's Action Is Far from Popular

The recent order of the Federal Radio commission, reallocating broadcasting stations, has brought considerable protest from Marion radio fans, according to wholesale dealers here. The reallo-tion, instead of clearing up the situation, has simply made it worse, the Marion radio fans say.

Mr. Marion Radio Fan, who, before the radio commission "cleared up the situation," was accustomed to the fact that his set was not in tune in his favorite station, now appears to be all out of luck. "The old set apparently isn't in tune in any of the stations," he says.

Old Favorites Weak

Stations that used to come in clear and strong at a certain point just aren't on any more and when they are, they are so weak that they are barely distinguishable. WTAM, a former favorite of Marion fans, is hard to tune in since the reallocation, many persons claim and when it is found, it is weak. WTU, another former favorite, goes off the air during the early hours of the night.

Another objection is that WTU has practically a complete monopoly on the air here. This station was permitted to step up its power to 50,000 watts by the action of the commission while other stations in this region, including WAJU, were reduced in power. Detroit stations are not what they once were and stations of the Middle West, including numerous ones in Chicago, appear to be hard to separate on the average set.

Mid Sections Suffer

While the regions bordering on the center of radio broadcasting, namely the East, Middle West and extreme West are no doubt benefited by the reallocation of wave lengths, the sections between these centers are apparently bearing the brunt of the change, is the report here.

Although at present the radio situation appears to be bad, there are hopes for its improvement. The action of the radio commission must be given time for further adjustment, radio dealers declare. In the meantime Marion fans are busy re-aligning stations as rapidly as they are found under the reallocation.

Although agents to be a case of misery in haste and spend it at leisure.

POPULAR MUSIC SCHEDULED

Be Feature on Radio

A special choral arrangement of the popular ballad, "Dear, On a Night Like This," will be heard as a feature of the program to be broadcast by the Armstrong Quakers through the WJZ network of the National Broadcasting system at 8:30 o'clock Friday night.

The Quaker Girl's evening at home will be followed by another chorus number, Jessie Hopen's "Oh, Darling." The radio quartet will be heard in two sections, the current ballad, "Jeannine" and "A Dream," by Bartlett.

As her share in the entertainment, the Quaker Girl, Irma de Baum, contributes two solos, the "Indian Love Call," from "How Many," accompanied by the orchestra, and Carrie Jacobs-Bond's "Just A Wearying For You," accompanied by the male quartet.

Sonora Edelstein violinist will be heard during the 10 o'clock hour over the WEAF network at 10 o'clock Friday night. He will play as his solo selection Nacache's "Cajon Dance."

"Dear Old Girl of Mine," a song bit of a quarter of a century ago, will be sung by a Spangman tenor soloist in the WJZ Friday night broadcast. The WJZ network at 9 o'clock Friday night.

Schubert's "Ave Maria" will be played as a telephone solo featuring the Stromberg-Carlson program to be heard at 10 o'clock Friday night through the WJZ network of the NBC system.

FREEZE UNWELCOME IN TALKIE STUDIOS

and Pictures Expected To Be the Old Favorite Films

tal—In social affairs, a snerze does not record as a snerze but as some violent disturbance. It might be called talkie snerze. The sound of a snerze, Harry more explains, is a peculiar vibration that starts the sound track at a considerable distance. It strikes back a noise like a photograph needle that has slipped out of its groove and epunters across the entire record.

Because of this unexpected condition actors suffering from colds will not be allowed to work because of the danger of a snerze. A villain at last has been pointed out by scattering a spoonful of snuff could wreck a super production.

The talkies, however, are expected to result in the revival of many old favorite films that will be revamped

Women are Learning the Right Way

Impurities on the face and other parts of the body are warnings from within. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils and other skin disorders that burn like flames of fire.

If you are unfortunate in having skin blemishes, pimples, blotches, you owe it to your self and friends to remove them. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful skin ailments by taking a course of SSS.

Give it to yourself to try SSS. It helps Nature build up her corpuscles. It improves the process by which the blood is renewed.

Red blood cells are Nature's way for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that

How Franklin D. Roosevelt Won His Hardest Battle

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor elect of New York, as he appears today and when he was taking "water cure" at Warm Springs Ga. to benefit his paralyzed legs. Above the cottage which Mr. Roosevelt occupies when vacationing in Georgia.

Devises "Water Cure" for Infantile Paralysis, Now Walks Erect

THE world probably knows all there is to know about Franklin D. Roosevelt—off and on. He is a distinguished former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, a Democratic leader in earnest, a friend of the common man, a man of great courage and ability, a man who has won the admiration of the people of the United States and the respect of the world.

So much for his public life. The Franklin D. Roosevelt who is known to the people of the United States is the man who has won the admiration of the people of the United States and the respect of the world.

There may have been doubt in the minds of the medical men but there was none in that of Frank Roosevelt. He was the first to realize that the water cure was the only way to cure infantile paralysis.

After spending a few months in a great New York sanatorium, he decided to try an experiment of his own device.

You may wonder how a man who has been paralyzed since childhood could possibly get around the difficulty. The answer is simple. He is a man of great courage and ability, a man who has won the admiration of the people of the United States and the respect of the world.

Franklin D. Roosevelt made up his mind that if infantile paralysis could be cured, the most plausible way would be by the victim to spend as much of his winter hours in the water as was possible. This he proceeded to put into effect at Warm Springs.

For months the eminent future political leader has been swimming in the water, and he has won the admiration of the people of the United States and the respect of the world.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a brilliant physician for 20 years and a colonel's old time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil. No gripping is the keynote of these little sugar coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a dark brown mouth—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

NAMES THREE AIDES TO CARRY ON PROBE

Turner's Assistants Appointed by Bettman for Cleveland Election Case

Cleveland, Nov. 22—Three assistants of Attorney General Edward C. Turner, who is conducting grand jury investigation into alleged election irregularities in Cuyahoga county, today had been selected to carry on the probe after Turner's term of office expires Jan. 1 according to an announcement here by Attorney Gilbert Bettman, Cleveland attorney general elect of Ohio.

Turner saying that he could not complete his investigation by Jan. 1, Bettman in the probe so that Bettman would be familiar with the situation when he left office. Bettman refused and at the same time offered to resign. Turner as special counsel after the first of the year. Turner refused this so at a conference here late yesterday it was decided by Bettman that Turner's three assistants would be retained.

The men are Henry S. Ballard, Herman Warner and John E. Liden. Turner's investigation has already led to the dismissal of the former board of elects in here and the ouster of more than 100 precinct workers. Many criminal indictments will be returned against workers in the past elections here according to reports coming out of Turner's special grand jury room.

TURNER'S AIDES

Damage to Chicago Resorts $20,000, Not Paying at Night Place

Chicago, Nov. 22—Two soft drink parlors were bombed today within five minutes of each other. Damage in each case was estimated by police at $1,000.

The second floor of the first building bombed is occupied by H. S. Sharkey, Curran son of the late Tom Curran, prominent politician, who is in the trucking business.

The second blast wrecked the entrance to the soft drink parlor of Edward J. Frank, the Russo Athletic and Benevolent club's copy quarters on the floor above him.

Police were inclined to the opinion that the soft drink parlors hadn't been buying beer from the "right parties."

AD GIVEN UP HOPE; KONJOLA SAVED THE DAY of Stomach Trouble ended by New Medicine;

Every Other Remedy
Had Failed

MRS. NORA DILLON am making this statement in the that people in poor health will it and profit by my experience Konjola restored my health I thought my case was hopeless. Mrs. Nora Dillon, 1576 ter avenue, Columbus, Ohio.
the past year, I suffered from stomach trouble so badly, in fact, that I was on a strict diet. I had undergone a number of operations and the of these undermined my nervous system. Sometimes I was kept in bed for days at a time and quite often I was unconscious. I suffered from gas and pains after eating and I was so weak I was unable to do my work.
Now where Konjola was working wonders among suffering people decided to give it a trial. It is saying that I did, because it put me to bed exactly what I needed. I have regained my lost strength and energy. My stomach is perfectly normal and no matter what there is not a sign of misery feeling afterward. What more can I say to verify the wonderful results of Konjola?
Konjola is different than any other remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and restore healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system amazing relief in cases of suffering has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak undown systems have been restored to a new state of health by this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this area told of their experience with this medical product, until now it is the most highly indorsed remedy that is known in this section.
Konjola is sold in Marion at Stump Pharmacy and by all the best druggists throughout this section.

UPPER SANDUSKY

First Basketball Practice Held at Upper Sandusky High

Upper Sandusky, Nov. 22—Aspirants for the basketball teams of the local high school turned out in large numbers this week for the first practice, the boys working under Coach Kenneth Sollars and the girls under Miss Jessie Childs, girls' athletic director for the school.
Only a few of the first stringers on the boys' team were removed by graduation this year, making the prospects for a crack team bright this year. Some promising material among the subs of last year is expected to develop with several weeks of training.

The girls' prospects are not so good, the larger part of last year's veteran players being gone from the ranks. However, with interest being shown in the sport by the girls, Miss Childs expects to develop a team which will offer stiff opposition to any of their opponents.

According to L. H. Hout, director of athletics, a full schedule has been arranged, with the first game to be played at Ada, Dec. 4. Nevada will be the opponent for the first home game to be played Dec. 21. On Dec. 28, games with the high school alumni have been booked. On each of the dates both boys and girls teams will play.
